Projects

Simple Blog: github.com/salazarlg24/Mainstage_blog | Simple Blog built with Ruby on Rails.

After a user registers or logs in, they are taken to the blog dashboard where they can leave comments on the blog they are viewing.

Exp: github.com/salazarlg24/exp_project | Built with JavaScript (MongoDB, Express, AngularJS, Node). A local event finder application. After a user has logged in or registered they are taken to a dashboard where multiple events are displayed, the user has the option to join or go to the create page to construct an event of their own.

Professional Networking: github.com/salazarlg24/Professional_Networking | Social media application. Built with Ruby on Rails. Similar to LinkedIn, after creating a profile, a user may view other user's profile and choose to add them to their network. (RESTful architecture utilized. Rails ActiveRecord applied for front-end query logic. PostgreSQL used for database.)

Experience

February 2017 – May 2017

Coding Resident, The Coding Dojo

Fourteen-weeks of high intensive coding/programming specializing in three different languages: JavaScript, Python, and Ruby on Rails. Committed twelve hours a day of hands on coding and problem solving through out the duration of the program, which has enabled me to fully grasp each stack conceptually and the ability to apply my knowledge on course and personal projects.

August 2016 – January 2017

Sales Coordinator, NCC Media

Responsible for accurately entering and transmitting all spot cable media schedules for all assigned Account Executives.

February 2015 – July 2016

Owner/Personal Trainer, Athlete Academy LLC

Constructed fitness and nutrition regimens for clients while providing one on one and group instructions on fundamental to advanced training methods. Developed multiple business marketing strategies and partnered with local business for promotion purposes to gain cliental.
